Marie Curie, 1867-1934

Marie Skłodowska Curie changed the world not once, but twice! She founded the new science of radioactivity – even the word was invented by her – and her discoveries launched effective cures for cancer.

Emily Wilding Davison 1872 – 1913

Emily Davison was an English suffragette who fought for votes for women in Britain in the early twentieth century. She was arrested on nine occasions, went on hunger strike seven times and was force fed on forty-nine occasions. She died after being hit by King George V's horse Anmer at the 1913 Derby when she walked onto the track during the race.

Rosa Parks, 1913–2005

In 1955, Rosa Parks, an African American living in Alabama, challenged the race segregation that existed in parts of the US by refusing to give up her seat on a bus so that a white person could sit down. Her protest was supported by many other African Americans and sparked the civil rights movement which, in the 1960s, eventually won equal rights.

Cleopatra, 69 BC-30 BC Egyptian Pharaoh

Final ruler of Egypt's Ptolemaic dynasty, Cleopatra was more than the famous beauty that she is often portrayed as. A formidable, politically shrewd monarch, she was directly involved in the running of a kingdom that faced challenges on many fronts.
